ONE CENT.

IT'S A "STANDARD" LIE!

WE SHALL SEE IF THE BULLETIN'S ANANIAS DISOWNS THE BASE FALSEHOOD!

THE LIE.

Saturday's Maysville Bulletin. "The Republican party believes in the use of both gold and silver as standard money, and condemns the present Democratic Administration in its efforts to demonetize silver."

The above is a plank from the Republican National platform in 1888. Quite different it is from the platform Merck Hanna and Wall street forced into the present g. o. p. platform.

The difference between the real and the false will readily be seen. The Bulletin not only forged the word "standard" into its lie, but it italicized it to make the falsehood more emphatic. Now, let's see if the Second street Editor will try to palm the disreputable forgery off upon some one else after having commanded it in his editorial column, or whether he will have the honesty to acknowledge the dirty offspring.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S OVATION

HON. STEPHEN A. DOUGLASS AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.

It was a hummer From Hummerville!

Long before 7:30 Saturday night—the hour advertised for the appearance of Hon. Stephen A. Douglass—every available space in Washington Opera house was taken up, no less than two hundred persons occupying seats on the stage, many of the immense audience being ladies.

A conservative estimate of the crowd in the building will place the number at 1,200, while many more were obliged to deny themselves the pleasure of hearing the distinguished speaker for lack of accommodation.

Beyond peradventure, it was the most magnificent political demonstration seen in Maysville in many years—if indeed it ever had its equal.

The McKinley, Hobart and Pugh Club of the city, headed by the Mayville Band, paraded the streets prior to the speaking, and along the route there was marked enthusiasm, which bed the culmination when Mr. Douglass appeared upon the stage and faced the largest audience ever gathered within the walls of the Opera-house.

Mr. Douglass was appropriately introduced by Judge A. A. Wadsworth, and stepping to the front he was greeted by a storm of cheers that for some seconds prevented him from speaking.

He did not, however, intend to delay his statistics nor to use big words, but it was his purpose to present the issues of the day in such a plain, practical way as would appeal to the "bore sense" of the people.

And for more than an hour the distinguished gentleman fired such volleys of practical illustrations at his hearers that conviction was inevitable.

His witlessness were particularly effective, and at times the audience was convulsed with laughter.

Many of his comparisons were ludicrous in the extreme—made so by reason of the absurdity of the Free-silver propaganda upon which they were based.

His illustration of the "fat" theory so fondly embraced by the Populists of the present Democratic side was both forcible and conclusive.

In short, the speech of Mr. Douglass will long remain a pleasant memory to every one who heard it.

Following the distinguished Illinois came Colonel B. F. Clayton of Iowa, a native of Nicholasville in this state. who spoke at some length, and it was after 10 o'clock when the meeting closed.

There were several distinguished Democrats on the stage and throughout the audience.

At the Sound Money Democratic Convention in Baltimore, the Kentucky emblem, the head of Thomas Jefferson encircled with a wreath of hickory leaves, was adopted as the Maryland emblem, and it was decided to place under it this name "Sound Money National Democratic Party." In order that no men might make a mistake, it is understood, if the state authorities rule that the new party cannot use the name "Democrats" on its official ballot in Kentucky, that the title on the ballot shall be "National Sound Money Ticket."

and is melted by manufacturers of silver-were. It does not circulate now in commercial transactions with any country, and the convenience of these manufacturers in this respect can be better met by supplying small stamped bars of the same standard, avoiding the useless expense of coining the dollar for that purpose."

On May 2d, 1870, 500 additional copies of the report and the bill were ordered printed for the use of the Treasury Department to be distributed among experts on finance. The bill was printed upon paper with wide margins, leaving abundant room for experts to note their opinions, and transmitted to the different Mints and assay offices, to the First Controller, the Treasurer, the Solicitor, the First Auditor and other gentlemen known to be interested and learned in such subjects. Gen. James Pollock, Director of the Mint of Philadelphia; Robert Patterson, James Ross Swanson, Franklin Peale, Dr. H. R. Linderman, Mr. George Dunning, all studied the bill and sent their opinions to Mr. Knox, by whom they were transmitted to Congress. The proposal to discontinue the coining of the silver dollar was referred to in all their comments on the bill, and with one or two exceptions, approved.

The bill was considered at length by the Finance Committee of the Senate and the Coinage Committee of the House during five different sessions and the debates upon the bill in the Senate filled 66 columns of The Globe and in the House 78 columns. The Secretary of the Treasury, in his annual reports of 1870, 1871 and 1872, called especial attention of Congress to it. In his report of 1873 he said: "I suggest such alterations as will prohibit the coining of the silver dollar, for circulation in this country," dwelling upon its reasons therefor. This bill became a law February 12th, nearly three years after its introduction.

There was not only nothing secret or surreptitious in the passage of the Act of 1873, but every step accompanying its origin, introduction, consideration and passage received as much publicity as could be given to a bill. But the silver dollar was out of circulation long before the law of 1873 was enacted.

"The coinage of the silver dollar piece, the history of which is briefly given, is discontinued in the proposed bill. It is by law the dollar unit, and assuming the value of gold to be 15½ times that of silver, being about the mean ratio for the past six years, is worth in gold a premium of about 3 percent. (its value being $1.0312), and intrinsically more than 7 percent premium in our other silver coins, its value thus being $1.0742."

"The present law consequently authorizes both a gold dollar unit and a silver dollar unit, differing from each other in intrinsic value. The present gold dollar piece is made the dollar unit in the proposed bill, and the silver dollar unit is discontinued."

This measure was sent to us from the Treasury Department with the bill. Copies of the bill were sent to experts all over the country, asking their opinion, and answers were received and laid before Congress in printed form, in which the discontinuance of the silver dollar was thoroughly discussed. The bill was printed thirteen times and extra copies were printed for distribution. It was pounced over, amended and debated almost as copiously as any measure ever considered in Congress, and no man in either House proposed to retain the old silver dollar. The fact that it was omitted from our coins was referred to in debate. In speaking of the discontinuance of this coin in the House Mr. Samuel Hooper of the House Coinage Committee stated that the silver dollar of 18½ grains, by reason of its bullion or intrinsic value being greater than its nominal value, long since ceased to be a coin of circulation.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA & AMERICANS!

"I believe that it is a good deal better to open up the Mints of the United States to the labor of America than to open up the Mints of the United States to the silver of the world."—WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

We never had greater prosperity in this country, in every field of employment and industry, than in the busy years from 1880 to 1892, during all of which time this country was on a gold basis, and employed more gold money in its fiscal and business operations than ever before.—WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR JONES of Ohio says that state will give MCKINLEY the largest majority ever received by any candidate in its history.

The Commercial Tribune says the total vote of Maine was 123,396. Of this vote, 82,740 were Republican and 34,288 Democratic.

The number of farms in Maine, by the last census, was 62,013. The talk of the silver men is that the farmers are solid for free silver. The figures show the fairy story. If every vote the Bryan candidate received had been cast by a farmer, there would have been still nearly as many farmer votes given to the Republican candidate as were cast for the Populist.

Free silver had its fair trial in Maine. It was argued out at cross-roads as well as in the streets of cities. It had its champions in every county in the state. There was not a farmer in Maine to whom the cause was not presented. And, as we said the other day, there is no misunderstanding the verdict which was rendered. Free silver went down under the largest majority Maine has ever given—and farmers' vote helped make that majority. There is no getting away from the figures.

In Ohio there were in 1890 251,430 farms. The same arguments, and none other, are addressed to him who cares for fields and flocks in Maine. The result will be the same. The sturdy sense, the high regard for honor, the law-abidingness of the Ohio farmer, or of the 198,000 farmers in Indiana and the 179,000 in Kentucky, can be appealed to with the same certainty as in Maine. The farming class is the class from which comes the best in the Nation. Rugged and self-reliant, industrious and frugal, upright and patriotic, the Nation has never leaned on them in vain since the day when the "embattled farmers" stood for the independence of the land at Concord and Lexington. Sophistries may temporarily lead them, as every other class. But the saving common sense which is the characteristic of the American people penetrates at last the thinly disguised reputation and anarchy of the Chicago platform.

We have no fear of the Ohio farmers or those of Indiana and Kentucky. They will give as good an account of themselves and the rest of Maine.

The Ledger's Leaflets—No. 7.

One of the most misleading statements often made by silver stump speakers is as follows: "All we ask for silver is that it shall be admitted to the Mints on equal terms with gold. If I have one thousand dollars worth of gold bullion, I can take it to the Mint and have it coined. Why should I not enjoy the same privilege if I happen to have a thousand dollars' worth of silver bullion? Why should my gold be admitted to the Mint and my silver shut out?"

This question never fails to elicit applause. "That's a clincher—good boy—hit him again."

The answer is nevertheless obvious. If I have one thousand dollars' worth of gold bullion and take it to the Mint the Government coins it for me and stamps it $1,000. If I have a thousand dollars' worth of silver bullion and take that to the Mint, the Government, so long as the ratio remains 16 to 1, coins it and stamps it, at the present price of pure silver, $2,000. This is not equality of privileges between the two metals; it is gross partiality and favoritism to silver. The Government has no right to do it. It has a right to do it, on its own account, if having said that a silver dollar shall be equal to a gold dollar it stands ready to make that guarantee good. It has no right to let any dollar which it has issued, whether of silver or of paper, fall below par. If it does it is guilty of bad faith. It has no right to take 50 cents' worth of silver which does not belong to the Government, but to a private citizen, coin it, stamp it "one dollar," and give it back to the owner. An irredeemable silver dollar, intrinsically worth only half its face value, is a cheat.

"Why," says the silverite, "it used to do it. All we ask is that the Government shall return to its ancient practice." No, it never did. When it coined 371 1/4 grains of silver on private account, for the owner, that silver was worth 100 cents in gold. Now it is not. That it is the difference, and a great difference, too. The intellectual and moral perceptions of the man who cannot see it must be feeble indeed.

If the proposition in the Chicago platform were to let the owner of a thousand dollars worth of silver bullion take it to the Mint and have it stamped $1,000, the same as the owner of gold bullion has a right to do, there would be none of this anxiety and excitement on the part of business men that is everywhere apparent.

It is because the free silver movement contemplates putting a false valuation upon bullion coined for its owners that economists and financiers regard the Chicago platform as first dishonest and then inexplicably dangerous to the interests of the whole people, without distinction of class or pecuniary condition.

"UNCLE" CHARLEY BOSSO, aged 102, of Pond Creek, W. Va., who never voted any but the Democratic ticket, announces today that he hopes to live until the November election, if only to vote for MCKINLEY and Sound Money.

HON. D. D. WOODMANSEE of Cincinnati, just returned from Pennsylvania, says that that state and New York will each give MCKINLEY a quarter of a million majority. Michigan, he said, would give MCKINLEY 50,000 majority.

KENTUCKY is one of the states in which the Palmer and Buckner ticket is sure to get a large vote. The demonstrations in favor of the ticket thus far have been more numerous and enthusiastic than they have been in any other state. In the contry at large MCKINLEY is sure to get more honest money Democratic votes than PALMER. This will be true of the doubtful states especially. But in one or two of the normally Democratic states the Indianapolis ticket is going to poll a heavy vote.

The prediction that PALMER will run ahead of BRYAN in Kentucky seems extravagant; yet he will undoubtedly get enough votes to make MCKINLEY's plurality a good deal larger than BRADY's of 1890.

IT turns out that the attempt of ruffians to break up the Buckner meeting at Richmond, Va., was the result of a deliberate plot set on foot by the silver managers. It has reacted against the silver cause, and numbers of prominent Richmond Democrats have declared that they cannot train with such a lawless crowd.

THE indications are that the importation of gold will be kept up for some time. So far there has been imported $35,000,000, and it is expected that the sum will reach $50,000,000—that is, if BRYAN is beaten. If he should, unfortunately, be elected, you will see gold leaving us and going back to Europe faster than a young partridge can run through a stubblefield.

TWO YEARS ago Chairman ROBERTS and all the leading Republicans of Fayette county acquiesced in Judge DENNY's desire to put out no candidate against County Judge BULLOCK and other county and city officers. These gentlemen contend that their course in urging that no Congressional candidate be put out this year is in line with the policy pursued two years ago, with the exception that this year the electoral vote of Kentucky is at stake, while two years ago it was a seat in Congress.

Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they may be best known. An agent of mine, who resides at Dexter, Iowa, was about to visit me a few years since, and before leaving home wrote me, asking if they were sold here stating if they were not she would bring a quantity with her, as she did not like to be without them." The medicines referred to are Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds and cough; Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, lame back, pains in the side and chest; and Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy for bowel complaints. These medicines have a wide local use in Kentucky, amounting to a quarter of a century. The people have learned that they are articles of great worth and merit, and are unequalled by any other. They are for sale here by J. James Wood, Druggist.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Edward Wald, While Drunk, Attacks His Wife.

The Son Goes to the Mother's Assistance and is Thrown Down Stairs

A Boy Collected by French Who'd beat He is Rescued by the Police—Later the French Breaks Loose and Jumps into the River and is Drowned.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 28.—Just before the sun went down last night, Edward Wald, a ship carpenter residing at Mulberry street, narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an infuriated mob of west side citizens. Wald came home under the influence of liquor, quarreled with his wife, and then ran down the street. The 16-year-old son, Edward, seized his father's arm, and entreated him to quiet down, whereupon the brute became enraged and struck the boy, driving him into the wall, a distance of 20 feet. The little fellow screamed for help and rolled out of the open doorway into the street, writhing in convulsions. Dr. C. A. Turner was summoned to attend the boy, who had suffered a cold lesion to the spinal column.

Father McFiefe was hastened to the scene and administered the last rites of his church to the dying boy. Meanwhile the crowd increased to a mob, while the police, who had been sent to the scene, stood by and witnessed the sight of the helpless child struggling on the pavement until the clamor for retribution swelled to an ominous roar.

An impromptu delegation of 40 forced their way into the house to drag out the husband and other members of the family for a row. Wald had locked himself in a bedroom. The door was broken open and the brute dragged into the street, fighting desperately.

The police, who at first appeared and then disappeared, took the rope appeared. The mob gave battle to the police, determined not to allow Wald to escape them. During the scuffle the prisoner broke loose from those who were holding him and ran down an alluvial bank toward the river.

The mob was close at his heels and when the fugitive reached the river, knowing that his chance for life was far less than even if captured, plunged into the cold water. He was picked up by the Cuyahoga and was drowned. His body has not been recovered. The boy will die and the wife's injuries may also prove fatal.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Seven lives were lost Sunday at Shields by the foundering of a boat that was overloaded. When they reached the shore, they got some distance out in the harbor, they encountered a small sea, which broke over the boat and despite their efforts to hold her steady she turned and came back to shore. Other boats went to the rescue but before they could reach the people struggling in the water, seven of the party had been drowned.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 28.—Sunday night the police released the identity of the highwaymen who had recently have had at the Central station for the last 24 hours. They are Bert Kaiser, alias George Stanley, and James Bowen, alias Curtis, alias Watson, and are the leaders of the gang of highwaymen who have been robbing Cleveland during the last month. Both are well known crooks and have served time. They were caught red-handed in the act, but the police kept the matter quiet in order to secure other members of the gang. They were held until about 8 o'clock when the two prisoners entered the saloon of William Irbert on Sheriff street, covered the proprietor with revolvers, looted the cash drawer and then they had a drink. A few minutes later they left the saloon of James Keating and after confessing the cash was down at a table to drink. A porter slipped out and called the police. Four men in plain clothes, who were members of the police, met the men after a sharp fight, during which several shots were exchanged.

A CLOUDBURST

Causes Destruction of Life and Property in the Mountainous Regions.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 28.—A cloudburst struck the city of San Marcos, 50 miles north of here, and almost destroyed the lower portion of the town. All the bridges over the San Marcos river were washed away, and many houses were washed away, and a score of houses are in ruins. The tracks of the M. K. & T. and L. G. N. railroads were washed out for three quarters of a mile, and no train has passed since. The mail was delayed in falling buildings, and it is believed that many were drowned.

Three families living in the lower portion of the city, which is built on a hill, have not been heard from, and it is feared they have been drowned. The rush of water was so great that it swept every thing before it, and the damage to property will exceed $100,000.

While the clouds were still over the city, all telegraph and telephone wires are down, and the only information that has reached the outside world was sent to messenger to Kyle, Tex., 10 miles distant, and telephoned to this city.
